

PRODUCT DISCLAIMER STATEMENT

Saturn Enterprises, Inc., is a Stocking Distributor and Representative of the products found in this site, we make every effort to insure our stocks are adequate to fill our customers needs.

For new or recently established customers first order as well as accurate product configuration to a specific application may not be currently available.

Prices are representative to a basic product or type of product only, since many numerous configurations can be made available to insure compliance with requirements.

Product is available on a "First Ordered" Basis, and quantities of our stock change daily and all orders are subject to our review and availability of product you order against current inventory.

We are not responsible for incorrect product selection or errors in processing your order.